WHICH CAME FIRST, THE PENGUIN OR THE EGG? Egg Hunt Scheduled at Atlantis Marine World.

The penguins are coming to Atlantis Marine World this summer when it will open its newest exhibit, Encounter, at the Penguin Pavilion. But before they arrive, Atlantis Marine World will hold a Penguin Egg Hunt on Saturday, March 26 from 10am to 1pm.

The egg hunt, which is free to participants with the price of regular admission, is a first for the Aquarium. Prizes include a free Aquatic birthday party (restrictions apply), arcade game cards, Atlantis Explorer tour boat tickets, Discovery Tower, and Submarine Simulator rides.

“We are egg-cited about our newest addition to Atlantis Marine World and this Egg Hunt will be a true egg-stravaganza,” muses Aquarium Curator and Co-Founder Joe Yaiullo, tongue planted in cheek. “But in all seriousness, we are thrilled about our newest exhibit opening this Summer, and even moreso now that a pair of our penguins have begun the breeding process. That makes this egg hunt a very timely one indeed.”

Atlantis Marine World, Long Island's newest Aquarium, is located in downtown Riverhead on 3.2 acres along the scenic Peconic River. By capturing our visitors' imaginations and emphasizing the importance of marine life and environmental conservation and preservation, Atlantis Marine World's mission is to provide visitors with an interactive and exciting educational experience. Atlantis Marine World is also the home of The Riverhead Foundation for Marine Research and Preservation, New York's only authorized marine mammal and sea turtle rescue and rehabilitation center.
